

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

1. Identification of Conflict of Interest

Despite the fact that it is not feasible to produce an in-depth list of all significant conflicts of interest circumstances that may occur, in accordance with the existing environment, balance and involvement of the Company's industry, the following list comprises the many relevant situations which set up or may perhaps compromise a conflict of interest incidents necessitating a measurable risk of loss to the interests of one or more Clients, including, but not limited to:

- The potential use or distribution of private information copied from the Brokerage Department or other corporate components of BWorld.
- The concern of essential external and internal publics, stockholders, directors or managers of the Company.
- An interest in the capitalization of the Company's trading volumes in order to upsurge its charge income, which is erratic with the Client's own goal of reducing operational charges.
- The gratuitous edifice of both publics which may perhaps rooted from the Customers' trading volumes.
- The compensation of third parties where the interest of the Client clashes with the interest of the intermediary. To add further, the previously stated situations which can start or may lead to a conflict of interest are not irrefutable. For it to be conclusive, the Company will unequivocally investigate and evaluate further on each of the mentioned situations on an individual basis and take on an extra due diligence measures in order to have a compact proof that the ongoing case establishes a conflict of interest, accordingly to the requirement to act consequently.
- Operative actions would be applied to avoid or manage the interchange of data amongst appropriate persons involved in activities concerning a risk of a conflict of interest where the alteration of that information may damage the interests of one or more Clienteles.
- The single management of applicable individuals whose major responsibilities consist of sending out undertakings in the best interests of the clients whose securities may conflict, or who have characterize different interests that may clash, counting those of the Establishment.

- The exclusion of several direct links between the payment of applicable individuals predominantly betrothed in one activity and the payment of, or proceeds produced by different relevant persons, mainly involved in another movement, where a conflict of interest may occur relative to those undertakings.
- Measures to inhibit or limit any person from exercising inappropriate influence over the way in which a relevant person carries out investment or ancillary services or activities.
- An identification policy abounding the distribution of trusted or confidential information inside the Company.
- High walls limiting the movement of private and confidential information within the Company, and corporeal split-up of divisions.
- Measures leading the admission to automated data.
- Banning of outside corporate interests contradictory with our interests as far as the Company's constables and employees are concerned, except if the Board of Directors authorization is delivered.
- A policy intended to bind the conflict of interest ascending from the offering and reception of incentives.
- Selection of Internal inspection or to guarantee that right structures and controls are upheld and testify to the Company's Board of Directors.
- The Company correspondingly instigates ongoing observance of business events to guarantee that core controls are fitting.

The logo features the word "BWORLD" in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The letter "W" is stylized with an upward-pointing arrow integrated into its right vertical stroke. Below the main text, the tagline "SMALL WORLD. BIG TRADES." is written in a smaller, all-caps, white, sans-serif font. The background of the logo area is a blurred photograph of a person in a white shirt leaning over a table, possibly in a trade show or office setting. The entire logo is centered within a horizontal band that is part of a larger graphic design with teal and grey geometric shapes.